The month of May is already over and the end of our first deputational run is in sight. Only about 3 more weeks to go! From our perspective, it seems like things have gone well. We hope that we have been a blessing to the churches we have attended. I feel like the Lord has worked a bit of a transformation in me. I thought that deputation might be somewhat of a drudgery, but it hasn't turned out to be that at all.

Early on we began to realize that what we are doing is important, not only for us, but perhaps just as important for the churches we were honored to visit. It is important that everyone be reminded that Christ's "Great Commission" is global, that we'll all be held accountable for getting it done, and that our missionaries are partners working together with churches back home to fulfill it. We must work together to reach our world! Together we can do it! Jesus said this gospel "shall be preached in all the world". Someone is going to get the job done! Lord, don't let us fail in our responsibility!

1st ALJC Phil. Bible College to Open Aug 2nd!

The first ALJC bible college in the Philippines is scheduled to open in Manila on August the 2nd, 2010, shortly after we return. We are so excited to see this long awaited dream come to pass! We are very grateful for the young men that God is calling to ministry in the Philippines and feel we must do everything we can to train, equip, and deploy them in productive service for the Lord. The first class of our 2 year college is expected to have 12-15 enrollees. My heartfelt thanks goes out to those who have contributed to make this dream a reality! God bless you!

Nearing our Goal...

As of this writing, our pledges of monthly support are about $500/per month short of where they need to be. In addition to living and travel expenses, a portion of our budget goes to assist our fledgling organization, and we contribute to church building projects as often as we can. Anything you give counts! Everything you give is appreciated! Thank you!
